MONTANA USING

THE TREASURE STATE will start erupting some of its youthful value into Missoula this week to take part in one of the largest track meets in the United States. Montana during the school year has a number of athletic championships which are interscholastic treats, but none can compare with the annual spring Track Meet which brings all the contestants into two or three days' competition on one field. Football and basketball championships are usually confined to the final tilt of district winners or finalists. The big interscholastic Track Meet combines all districts in one grand spectacular meet.

THE University of Montana extends to all visiting teams and contestants a most courteous welcome. Missoula is prepared to open her doors to the throng of young people which are pouring into the city. Of prime interest to the University is the desire to make the interscholastic feel that this is the state's University and that it is here for them to take advantage of. We are but a branch of the Greater University of Montana and we wish to make the contestants feel that it is their school.

FROM all parts of the state they are trekking, via automobile, trains, wagons, busses, by water if they could, and sometimes even by air. Just think of all the little hamlets, villages, towns and cities which will be represented in this meet. It means something to the state to have such a representative gathering. Imagine all the various sections that they represent. Some of them are delegates to the editorial association meetings, others come for the track and field events. Declaratory contest start tomorrow night and already the debaters and Little Theater entries are nearing the final contests.

ALL classes are excused Thursday and Friday. Now to do a little idle philosophizing as to proper actions of college students on these two days. In the first place it would be nice if the students supported the interscholastic committee and attended the Track Meet. For the R. O. T. C. there is guard duty and traffic manipulation. For the fraternity enthusiasts there is plenty of rushing to be looked after. And for the general no-account loafers, there is a cool, quiet spot under a bush on the mountainside to go to sleep under.

IT'S great to have a nice, quiet student election instead of the egg-throwing fiasco that the University of Colorado's ended up in. There the student election has been indefinitely postponed while waiting for an investigation of violent pre-election vandalism. Hundreds of dollars worth of damage was done to college buildings and fraternity houses on the Colorado campus by egg-slingers and paint sloppers a few nights previous to the elections. It leaves a black mark against the Colorado student body but it is certainly not the fault of the majority. Force in a handful is as devastating as the undue publicity which they will receive.

Marciano Raquel Wins First Place In Aber Contest

"The Filipino Claim to Independence" Is Subject of Speech; Erickson Is Second

Marciano Raquel, San Manuel, Pang, P. I., giving "The Filipino Claim to Independence," won the first prize and $35 in the Aber Oratorical contest which was held Monday, May 11, at 11 o'clock in Main hall auditorium. Albert Erickson, Hamilton, with a subject of "The National Nemesis" won second place and a prize of $15. Others who spoke were Melvin Magnuson, Helena, on "Machines: The Curse of Our Civilization" and James Sonstie, Kalispell, giving "Not Guilty."

University Alumni Are Represented in Track Meet Coach and Advisor Group

Chaperons, Advisors and Coaches Here for Interscholastic Include 46 Out of 108 Registered Who Are Former State University Students

Forty-six of the 108 coaches, advisors and chaperons who are representing their high schools at the Interscholastic Track Meet are former University students; among these 46 are some of the best coaches in the state, men whose teams have gone far in establishing reputations in different sports.

Five of the eight teams which placed in the upper bracket in the state interscholastic basketball tournament last winter were coached by ex-University men. The two teams which fought it out for the state football championship last fall were drilled by Montana varsity athletes, Chinske and Dahlberg.

At least 11 prominent Montana coaches will send their men to the starting line or the circle, striving for points in the great interscholastic Track Meet this week.

An equal number of University graduates will be driving their squads for championships in other states. Montana men are coaching colleges and high schools as far east as Ohio and as far west as Washington and California.

Eddie Chinske

Eddie Chinske, who graduated a year ago, already has a state title to his credit—basketball won from Whitefish last winter at the Interscholastic basketball tournament; he will be here this week looking for another title. Miles City lost the state football championship by a single touchdown to Butte high. Walter Griffin is Chinske's assistant down on the Powder River flats. Chinske was quarterback on the varsity team and captain of the basketball team while at the University.

Harry Dahlberg, or "Swede," as he is known in the Mining city, has been a frequent contender for the state title in all sports. The Purple Ponies have played for the state football championship five times and won four, losing the one to Jiggs Dahlberg in the historic "brothers game." 20-6. Butte high has taken the interscholastic Track Meet eight times and at present leads in the greatest number of points scored at Missoula since 1904 when the meet originated. Stan Griffith has been helping him there.

Ilman and Daylis

Chief Ilman succeeded Cubs Daylis, both University men, at Billings. His team places in the first eight at Bozeman nearly every year. The shifty, speedy type of football play, taught by the former hard-hitting varsity fullback, has brought disaster to many teams. Cubs Daylis is now assistant principal of Billings high school.

At Park County high school, Alva Straw has been coaching for about four years, and has turned out capable teams in all sports, particularly basketball. For the past two years Livingston has placed in the upper eight in the basketball tournament in the Montana State college gym.

Boydton Page, Twin Bridges mentor, took a summer session course in basketball under Jim Stewart at the State University. Last year his team grabbed the southern district basketball title and placed in the upper eight in the state.

At Missoula High school, Guy Stegner has turned out fighting, clever teams. His last title came last spring when Missoula raced into first place at the Track Meet, although they had not been highly rated before the meet began. He has as his assistant, Milton Ritter, who has been signed as the Deer Lodge coach next year. Ritter's place will be filled by Frank Thraill.

Cloyse Overturn has control of the Plains high school athletic situation. Sam Kain is the assistant coach at Great Falls. Ray James is coaching at Camas Prairie.

Russell Sweet

Russell Sweet, nationally famous sprint star and another University athlete, is coaching at Stanford junior college for boys at Palo Alto. Two other Montana men are coaching in California. Claude Samples at Pinole and John Prescott in Northern California. Washington has two famous Montana athletes: Jiggs Dahlberg, former coach at Miles City, now at Hoquiam, and Jimmy Powell, head coach at Washington Athletic club in Seattle. Ralph Christie is coaching at La Grande, Oregon, while 2,500 miles away, Bob Tiernan is sending the St. John's college boys through their paces.

GREETINGS FROM NEW COACH

We are glad you are here and hope that you will come back next year, either as a high school competitor or just as a visitor, or better yet, as a student at the University next fall or in the years to come. You will like the University of Montana. It is a fine University in every way. I wish you good luck in your competition and hope you enjoy your stay.

Bernard Oakes, Head Coach of Football.

Class Teams Will Meet in Tug-of-War

Freshman and Sophomores Will End Green-Cap Controversy Friday Morning

Freshmen and sophomore teams will clash in the annual Tug-of-War across the branch of the Missoula river, north of the campus, at 10 o'clock Friday morning. The contest, an old Montana tradition, decides yearly whether the green caps worn by the frosh will be worn for the remainder of the school year, if they lose, or whether they will disappear from the campus until another class is to wear them, if they win.

According to the announcement of Yell King Bob Hendon, who acts as referee, the Tug-of-War will be held across the river for the first time in several years. High water has prevented using this as the battle ground during this time and the contest lately has been held on the University oval, a high-power water hose serving as the wetting instrument. Two years ago the freshmen won this event after a long string of sophomore victories. Apparently they broke the jinx, for last year, also, the frosh won.

River Is Battleground

The teams will meet by the Van Buren bridge which spans the river, here they will receive final instructions from Yell King Hendon. They will be told that spiked shoes are in order and that every member of the losing team must go through the water, which is icy-cold at this time of the year. The sophomore team will be given the advantage of pulling from the island, but they will not be allowed to tie the rope to a stump, as was done several times in the past.

Clagett Sanders, freshman class president will swim the river to deliver the rope to the sophomore team. He will be encouraged by Horace Worden, sophomore class president, from a safe place on the bank.

DEAN OF WOMEN'S WELCOME

I extend to all Track Meet visitors the greetings of the University. May you enjoy your visit to the fullest and leave Missoula with happy memories.

Harriet Rankin Sedman, Dean of Women.

"Purple Towers" Will Be Produced By Independents

Musical Comedy Has Been Produced In Every State In Union Since It's Writing

"Purple Towers," the musical comedy to be produced by the Independent students at the Wilma theater Saturday night at 7 and 9 o'clock, has been produced in every state in the Union. The show was written in 1928 and this spring it was produced at the University of Washington with a cast of 300 students.

Don C. Wilson, the author of the comedy, has written 18 musical comedies and operettas. He is a member of the younger and more modern schools of writers and is fast coming into prominence in musical America. He has written the dialogue, music and lyrics for "Purple Towers." Other comedies of his are "Up in the Air," "Sonja" and "The Lucky Jade."

Construction of the setting for the production here is practically completed. The work is being done by Harold Rhude, stage manager, aided by Jerome Frankel, assistant stage manager and a crew of workers.

Stage Setting

The show contains only two acts. The setting for the first one is the outside of a small railroad station in the town of Centerville. The scene for the second act is laid in the living room of Purple Towers. The room is luxurious, well-planned and contains fine furniture.

Special Chorus

Work on the costumes for the production has been going on for the past two weeks under the direction of Eleanor Arnold. A staff of assistants has been working with her. Several striking costumes have been planned for the production with special emphasis being placed on the costumes for the choruses.

Beauty and lighting effects will be stressed in the "Butterfly" chorus. Other striking choruses will be the "Gingham Girl" chorus, "We Are the Cooks" and "September Love Dreams." There will be a wide variety of costumes in the choruses as well as upon the principal members of the cast, according to the directors.

Track Meet S.O.S. Will Be Thursday

Traditional Singing on the Steps Will Commence at 7:15 o'Clock

"Contestants and visitors of Montana's twenty-eighth annual Track Meet should not fail to keep an open date for Singing on the Steps, which will be held on the steps in front of Main hall, Thursday evening at 7:15 o'clock," said Bob Hendon, Yell King, yesterday.

Hendon requests that dormitories, fraternities and sororities urge every visitor and guest to be at Main hall promptly at that time, due to the long program which has been planned. It will not be necessary to urge University students to attend, Hendon said, as they never fail to respond to summons for S. O. S., which is one of Montana's oldest and best-liked traditions.

An excellent program has been arranged, Hendon said. As is customary, A. S. U. M. officers will be installed, and the new members of Silent Sentinel and Mortar Board will be announced and introduced at this time. Silent Sentinel is senior men's honorary group, and Mortar Board, senior women's honorary.

The University band will play during the program, and possibly the men's glee club will sing if arrangements can be made. Coach Oakes, new Grizzly football coach will give the opening speech. Other speakers during the evening will be: J. W. Stewart, art, track and basketball coach; President C. H. Clapp, and Captains Emile Perey, Archie Grover and Glen Lockwood. Lockwood is next year's basketball captain, and Perey and Grover are the present joint track captains.

ATHLETES WELCOME

Welcome to the high school athletes of Montana—You will find many of your former teammates here, several of whom have established reputations as outstanding stars in the Coast conference. We sincerely hope that all of you will join these men to help make your University a real factor in all branches of athletics in the Coast conference.

This is your University—help build it.

J. W. Stewart, Director of Athletics.

Welcome, Visitors

WELCOME! Interscholastic visitors upon our campus this week will see it extended to them from every side. We mean it, and shall do everything possible to promote an enjoyable time for the fifteen hundred high school students who will be guests of the University and the student body for the next three days.

The annual Interscholastic Meet held on our campus is the biggest of the contestants and visitors who are here during the Meet with as great, if not greater, anticipation and pleasure as do the guests themselves. It means work for all of us, but it is work combined with pleasure—enjoyment for all.

We are proud of our University and our campus, and because of that pride, you high school visitors will see us at our best. We hope you like us, our campus, and our University. We look forward to the time when we will see you as one of us, a student on the Montana campus.

A great deal is going on this week, including declamation, debate, golf, tennis, essay, Little Theater, track and field events. But that is not all. The week will be crowded with social affairs planned for the entertainment of high school men and women. Through these entertainments they will get to know us and our campus better, and we will have the opportunity to know and like them.

Again, we say Welcome! Enjoy yourselves while you are here, and plan to come again some time.—M. W.

Track Meet

CASUALLY we speak of a football game, and it is a football game and nothing more. Casually we speak of the Track Meet, but it is like no other athletic event on the University program. It is more than a grouping of track and field events—it is a myriad cluster of things to do and places to go.

For the dramatically inclined there are the one-act plays in the Little Theater contest—a constant changing show of the best in high school talent. For the back-to-nature enthusiast there is the golf tourney, with a stream of players trickling over the course south of the campus. For the journalist there are the meetings of the editorial association.

Playoffs in tennis offer another means of entertainment for the person with some time to spare. And today there are the debates, and tomorrow the boys' and girls' declamatory contests. Friday evening there is the awarding of medals to the winning and playing contestants. Interspersed are various committee meetings, a parade of athletes, and an R. O. T. C. review. Not to mention the main events—the playing off of the track and field events during the afternoons. Entertainment will be prolonged to Saturday, with the State Intercollegiate meet.

Another element in connection with the Track Meet is the social aspect. Delegates will be guests of various organizations at luncheons, dinners and parties during the week so that, in fact, they will be kept entertained or busy during every waking moment of the week.

Track Meet from its title sounds simple and single-minded. But Track Meet in retrospect is seen to be inclusive and elaborate—athletic, intellectual and social. It is, as we remarked before, not so much a Track Meet as a myriad cluster of things to do and places to go.—V. H.

Campus Traffic

DURING the next two days the campus will be crowded with contestants in every Interscholastic event. They are not as familiar with the campus roads as are the University students and Missoula people who drive cars. Certain places on the campus are particularly dangerous when an abnormal number of cars is rampant. In the afternoon tomorrow and Friday the road back of Main hall will be crowded with spectators going to the athletic stand and cars coming along that road are dangerous to human life, if speed by reckless drivers is the rule.

University avenue and John avenue from Van Buren street bridge are the main traffic inlets to the campus. Other less well marked roads will not be open for cars to enter the grounds of the University. Observance of the official entrances and exits to the campus will greatly simplify the traffic problem which the University faces during Track Meet.

Each year the University provides traffic officials to direct the huge stream of cars which flows into the campus from all directions. These men are instructed on the direction the traffic must take to insure speed in dispersing the crowd.

Complying with traffic rules and directions each driver can cooperate with the officials handling the traffic stream by using his head and going cautiously in the narrow, dangerous spots on campus roads. Remember hundreds of visitors will be on the campus this week who are not acquainted with the byways. Be careful by driving slowly and watching out for people coming out from blind corners.

All these people, children, who have suddenly swooped in upon us looking so collegiate, are the high school students here for the meet. If you become confused, you may always set yourself right by remembering that if they look collegiate, they are high school students and if they don't they are either college students, truck drivers, traveling salesmen or professors.

In that way, you can at least spot the high school visitors.

You can readily see by looking at the group of visitors, children, that there is no truth to the rumor that plow handles had to be fastened onto the seats ahead before they could get some of them to ride the train.

It's also an exaggeration that one of them, when the porter tossed down the little stepping stool, sat down on it and grabbed two handfuls of gadgets underneath the coach.

Uncle wants to take this means of welcoming each and every visitor. Uncle hopes that each one will enjoy his stay with us, and if there's anything that Unk can do to help, just let him know.

Dear Uncle Hud:
Is a college degree essential for a woman?

Your loving visitor,
Mabel.

Dear Mabel:
Not as essential as degrees Fahrenheit.

Your loving uncle,
Hud.

This week's medal goes to the man, woman or child who can walk down the street, quite close to a person of tender years who is watering the lawn, without a feeling of impending disaster.

Uncle is having pipe dreams regularly now, children. His last one was that being true to an absent lover is like refusing all food because caviar is unavailable.

Uncle has also noticed that some folks' taste run to onion soup rather than caviar.

Gangsters on our campus, children, are making it dangerous for those with Track Meet Elbow. A family of hoodlums known as the Hogan gang, with George K. Hangover as an assistant, dog the steps of the imbibers, with consequent losses in the imbibing ranks.

It seems that one Hogan, tall and muscular, taps you over the head with a gasp, another Hogan, very short and active, runs around behind you and pushes the stiffness out of your knees.

Then George K. Hangover rides on your back all the next day.

Avoid them, children.

Mathews Kast, assistant professor in the Department of Economics and Sociology, has gone to Butte with Austin Rodrick, junior in the same school to ascertain the cost of criminal justice in that city. Hampton Snell, assistant professor of economics and sociology, has gone to Great Falls with Harold Fitzgerald for the same purpose. This work is being done for President Hoover's Crime commission.

Jack Toole spent the weekend at Flathead lake.

A. A. U. W. Meets

Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Merrill's home on Beckwith avenue was the scene of the last meeting of the year for the Missoula branch of the American Association of University Women when they entertained with a garden party last Saturday afternoon. More than 50 people attended during the afternoon. A lovely tea was served at the close of the occasion at a table decorated with orchid and pink blossoms and tapers, over which Miss Ruth Smith, the chapter's president, presided. Election of officers for the coming year was held before the social meeting. It was announced that all of the student loan fund was now in use by State University women, several applications having been denied.

Faculty Women Meet

The Faculty Women's club of the State University was the guest of Mrs. Robert C. Line, Mrs. Martha Turney-High, Mrs. J. B. Speer and Mrs. W. P. Clark at a tea last Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Line in Greenough park. The tea marked the last meeting of the school year for the group. The date set for the next meeting was October, when officers will be elected for the year's activities. From the hours of 2 to 5 o'clock tea was served by Mrs. Brassil Fitzgerald and Mrs. Clifford Riedell.

Phi Sigma Kappa Ball

Phi Sigma Kappa gave their annual formal Installation Ball at Tokyo Gardens Friday night. Nat Allen's orchestra played for the dance. Chaperons and guests were Dean and Mrs. Tom Spaulding, Professor and Mrs. R. L. Housman, Professor and Mrs. Leon Richards, Doctor and Mrs. C. F. Deiss, Mr. and Mrs. Ace Woods and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Coyle.

South Hall Floors Are Being Repaired

Repair work on the floors of South hall was started today. Magnesite flooring which has been used on the floors previously has proved unsatisfactory and is breaking up. At present a sub-base is being prepared and a new asphalt tile will take the place of the old. The new tile is somewhat like battleship tile, and comes in a number of colors. The new flooring will be completely laid in about a month.

Summer School Plans Include Many Courses, Weekend Excursions

Writers' Conference Will Be Included in English Courses; Schools Offer Wide Range of Courses and Weekend Trips Will Be Open to All Summer Students

Complete plans for the 1931 summer school, six-week term from July 15 to July 24 or July 6 to August 14 and the nine-week term from June 15 to August 14, show a strong and interesting schedule made up of a wide range of courses and an interesting program of weekend excursions and social activities.

The Department of English offers a varied and interesting program for the summer session other than the usual English courses. National Writers' conference, which will bring to the campus a number of established writers and teachers, and the Holbrook colony, a group interested in the field of writing which will be in residence on the campus during the entire session, will offer much to the student interested in writing. Several of the English instructors during the session will be affiliated with the conference.

Education Courses

Special stress is being laid on the courses in education during this session. This school offers a large selection of courses for teachers and administrators toward degree and certificate credit. There will be an interesting group of visiting professors in this department together with three of the resident staff.

The Coaching school is being emphasized this year due, partially, to the participation of Bernard F. Oakes, new football coach at the University. Courses to be offered are: theory and practical intramural athletics, football, basketball, track and field athletics. Practical and scientific courses will be offered by the Department of Physical Education.

A special feature of the School of Music will be the participation of Miss Jane Bradford Parkinson of the American Conservatory of Music as a guest faculty member. Miss Parkinson will offer a special normal course in class piano methods. Other courses will be offered in this department by the resident instructors.

Courses Offered

Other courses to be offered during the summer session are: biology, botany, business administration, economics and sociology, fine arts, foreign languages which include French, Spanish, German, Latin and Greek, history and political science, home economics, journalism, mathematics and psychology.

An interesting extra-curricular program of lectures, convocations, plays, and recitals has been arranged. Those interested in golf, swimming and tennis have ample means of entertainment. The weekend excursions are open to all the summer school students and for which a nominal charge is made. The schedule for these excursions is practically the same as that of other years with the exception of the trip to Lake Como, about one hundred miles south of Missoula.

Excursions

The schedule for these excursions is: Mount Sentinel, June 20; Seeley lake, which will take two days and a night will begin June 27; National Bison reserve, July 4; Blackfoot canyon, July 11; Glacier National park, July 16, 17, 18, and 19; the trip to Lake Como in the beautiful Bitter Root valley which is filled with points of interest; Lolo pass and Lolo hot springs on August 1; Lake Ronan and Flathead lake August 8 and 9.

Bunge Tells About Credit Bookkeeping

Credit Manager Explains Methods Of Handling Credit Accounts

Seminar students in the School of Business Administration interviewed L. E. Bunge, credit manager of the Missoula Mercantile company last week.

Mr. Bunge described in detail the matter of credit extension and the bookkeeping system of the firm. He also told about the requests for credit, how they are authorized and regulated by the central office. The credit file, which includes applications for credit and information about those applying, was explained to the students.

Under his explanation of the bookkeeping system, Mr. Bunge explained the method of keeping up wholesale and retail books. He told about the charging system and about the regulation of monthly statements.

The students were the guests of the Daily company meat market last week. E. S. Holmes, general manager of the firm, told about the operation of the packing plant and the retail selling of meat. He told about the purchase of livestock and why it is necessary to have cattle, hogs and sheep on hand to supply every need. In connection with this he described the 3,000-acre ranch that is maintained here in Missoula.

Mr. Holmes also discussed in detail the packing, slaughter, curing and preparing of meat for the local shop. Another important part of the business, the retailing of the meat, was explained to the group. The work of the cutting, livery and office department was described. Mr. Holmes conducted the students through the plant and the students learned that it is possible to produce just as good finished meat products in Montana as can be produced in the large meat packing centers of our larger cities. It is merely prejudice that keeps the consumer from accepting home-cured products instead of Chicago finished products.

B. Hopper, Former Student, Writes On Soviet Russia

"Pan-Sovietism," Produced by Montana Man, Favorably Reviewed By Bruce Cotton

"Pan-Sovietism," a book written by Bruce Hopper, a former student of the State University and formerly of Billings has gained national note as one of the best of its type to be published.

Bruce Cotton, a well-known critic says of Mr. Hopper's book, "Here is an excellent synopsis of the whole story of Soviet Russia." Mr. Hopper tells just how and what the Soviets plan to do and how far they have succeeded.

Bruce Hopper left the State University in 1916 for Harvard. While a student there, he entered the French army at the outbreak of the World War, then switched over to the American air service when it was organized. After the conflict, he remained in Paris to write the history and a manual of instruction for future pilots on day bombardment. He spent the spring of 1919 at the University of Paris, then went to Oxford, England, but left before obtaining a degree, for a vacation in Italy which resulted in his making a 15-months' ramble through Spain, Switzerland, the Austrian Tyrol, Greece, Turkey, Syria, the Holy Land, Egypt, Ceylon, India, Burma and finally a caravan trip across the unexplored "back yard" of China. He reached Shanghai in June, 1921, and spent the following year in a hospital recovering from a series of Oriental diseases and writing editorial and feature stories. While there, he laid plans for his study of the Russian people.

Pharmacists' Convention Closes Here

Several States' Delegates Have Three-Day Meeting in Missoula

Kappa Epsilon, women's national pharmaceutical fraternity, opened its tenth annual convention with a business meeting in room 305 of the Forestry building Thursday morning.

This was the second Kappa Epsilon convention to be held on the Montana campus since the organization of the fraternity here in 1923. The opening meeting was presided over by Miss Naomi Kenefick of Eagle Grove, Iowa, grand president of Kappa Epsilon. The meeting adjourned after a short business session to await the arrival of other delegates.

Representatives arrived from five of the nine chapters of Kappa Epsilon. The following were in attendance: Miss Gunna Smedal, Wisconsin; Miss Agnes Kaspari and Miss Evelyn Wall, Minnesota; Miss Mildred Root, Nebraska; Misses Meyers, Abrahm and Kerwin from Wisconsin. Delegates were also expected from Colorado.

In addition to the colleges of pharmacy represented at the convention this week chapters of Kappa Epsilon have been organized at the University of Ohio, University of North Dakota and at Western Reserve university.

A tea was given for the visiting delegates at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mollett at 746 Keith avenue at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. At this time wives of Missoula druggists, who were also guests, were given an opportunity to meet the representatives of other units of the fraternity.

The day's activities were concluded with an evening fish-fry in the Blackfoot valley, followed by a survey of the Bonner sawmill.

Friday's program included professional meetings throughout the morning and from 1:30 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. A sight-seeing trip followed and a banquet at the Chimney Corner at 6:30 o'clock was the feature of the evening. Dancing began at 8 o'clock.

Saturday, the final day of the convention, was devoted to a tour through the Bitter Root with dinner at Aunt Tish's.

Mrs. Anna Nossell of Anaconda is visiting her daughter, Betty, at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

Bill Berg was a dinner guest Sunday of Alpha Tau Omega.

Mrs. Louise Arnoldson spoke last Saturday before the Current Topics club of Helena. While in Helena Mrs. Arnoldson was the guest of Mrs. A. K. Prescott. She returned last Sunday.

Growth of Track Meet Is Shown By Increased Number of Entrants

Ninety-Two Contestants From 19 Schools Entered First Meet in 1904 And Now More Than 700 Compete in Contests

By Bob Hendon and Deane Jones

"Growth of the Interscholastic Track Meet has been phenomenal. Since the horse and buggy days of 1904, we have watched it develop from a one-horse affair into a high-powered classic, ranking among the best in the United States," was the joint statement made today by Professor M. J. Elrod and others who were active in the staging of the first Interscholastic.

Since May 18, 1904, these men have seen the entry lists increase from 92 youths, representing 19 schools, to the present, when more than 700 young men and women from nearly 135 high schools throughout the state will compete in a varied program of athletics, speaking, debating and acting.

They have seen a group of five hundred spectators, filling to capacity a crowd of fans that packed into a semi-stadium of nearly 7,000 seating capacity. They have seen the picture hats and skin-tight trousers of that early period evolve through three decades of fashion into the chic turbans and sport suits of today.

Changes in Track

They have witnessed the transformation of that first speedway that is unsurpassed on the Pacific coast. The runners who started from erect positions in 1904 will envy the 1931 youths as they plunge from the newly adopted starting blocks. They have seen the change from the old make-shift costumes of the contestants, some with rolled-up overalls and baggy bloomers, tennis shoes or no shoes at all, in that first meet, into a parade of athletes, wearing the best of track equipment.

The first contestants and visitors were housed in the old University gymnasium, after much difficulty in deciding between that and a tent city. This year a committee has spent weeks arranging for the lodging of the high school representatives in University dormitories, Missoula homes and hotels. Tanans and Bear Paws, sophomore honorary organizations, have enlisted more than 100 cars to care for the transportation of these visitors.

An inspection of the campus by the first entrants meant the viewing of four buildings and a row of newly-planted cottonwood trees. Visitors in 1931 will walk in the shade of tall cottonwoods and fir trees as they stroll over the several acres now occupied by 17 buildings and outdoor laboratories.

Fraternity and sorority houses scattered throughout the University district add color to the meet with their decorations carrying out the theme of Montana for Montana students.

Training for Stars

Many boys, who later became famous runners, first performed in the Interscholastic at Missoula. Among these was Mahoney of Butte, who was later a college star at Michigan. Throughout all the years of Interscholastic, perhaps the most famous stars uncovered are Russell Sweet of Custer and Arnold Gillette of Fergus. Both attended the State University later, and became champions and record breakers of national renown.

Missoula high school won that 1904 meet, Powell county won the relay, while J. P. Pigott of Helena annexed the individual cup. Some of the marks made in events would seem ridiculously poor today. The declamatory contest, the only feature aside from the track and field events, was won by Albert Nadeau of Butte.

Track Meet History

The second meet was one of the most closely contested of all time. Only two points separated the leaders when it was over. The loss of a shoe was an ironic factor in the determination of the winner. Butte gained 27 points, Missoula 25, and Anaconda 22. Joe Horn of Anaconda was high-point man, entering seven events to score all of Anaconda's points.

Horn took individual honors again

Geologists Will Leave on Annual Spring Field Trip

Professor Deiss and Eight Students Will Stay at Drummond From May 12 to May 16

Professor C. F. Deiss, associate professor of geology, accompanied by eight student majors in the Department of Geology, will leave Missoula, May 12, for Drummond, on the annual spring field trip.

The party will do mapping work on both sides of the river, covering the territory between Drummond and Bearmouth. While in Drummond they will stay at the Palace hotel. Except for two of the students, who are doing advanced senior work, all of the men making the trip are enrolled in geology 35. The trip furnishes practical application of principles learned in that course, which is designed primarily to illustrate geologic features and principles by a study of actual cases, on and off the field.

The entire trip will be made by car, Professor Deiss said. The party will return to Missoula late in the evening of May 17.

Annual inspection by Lieutenant-Colonel Jerome G. Pillow, D. O. L. of the ninth corps area R. O. T. C. will be held Thursday, May 14. Major J. C. Thomas D. O. L., senior instructor of the Montana National Guard, made his annual tactical inspection here Monday and Tuesday, May 11-12.

Lieutenant Colonel Pillow, who is headquartered at San Francisco, California, will arrive here next Thursday to review the unit. He is on his annual spring inspection at which time he reviews all the R. O. T. C. units, both college and high school battalions, in the ninth corps area. His next stop after leaving Missoula will be at the Montana State college at Bozeman.

Major Thomas' inspection lasted for two days at which time he inspected the troops on Monday at a formal drill and on Tuesday he made an inspection of the classrooms of advanced students. Colonel Pillow's inspection will be the last one this quarter.

High School Girls Attend Big Play Day

One Hundred and Fifty Girls from Near-by High Schools Enter Competition

One hundred and fifty entrants from Western Montana high schools which included girls from Florence-Carlton, Stevensville, Corvallis, Missoula county high, Sacred Heart academy and St. Ignatius, attended Play Day, annual day set aside for competitive sports and sponsored by the Women's Athletic association, last Saturday.

Ten teams were used to designate the teams which were made up of different girls from different towns, thus eliminating any chance of one school competing against another school. Members of the "Gray" team placed first at the end of the day with 35 points. The "Orange" team finished second with 25½ points and the "White" group carried away honors for third place.

Besides collective points earned by teams, members of teams who made individual scores in events such as tennis or horseshoe pitching, were allowed to apply them to the team's score.

Purpose of Play Day

The purpose of play day is to become better acquainted with prospective women students of the University, to foster a deeper acquaintanceship with girls interested in physical education and to give them a good time. Mrs. Harriet Wood, head of women's physical education, directed all arrangements for the day, with the assistance of Gladys Allred, instructor in women's physical education. Majors in the department and minors, members of W. A. A. and Delta Psi Kappa co-operated in making the meet successful. Elvera Hawkins headed the committee in charge of the lunch, which was served on the lawn at the side of the Natural Science building.

The expenses of the day were borne by W. A. A. the contestants' only financial burden being that of transportation to and from Missoula.

Program

The program for the day was: 9 to 9:30 o'clock, registration; 9:30 to 10 o'clock, group meetings; 10 to 12 o'clock, basketball, tennis and horseshoe pitching; 12 to 12:30 o'clock, lunch; 12:30 to 1:30 o'clock, stunts by the groups; 1:30 to 2 o'clock, dancing; 2 to 4 o'clock, volleyball, track, tennis and horseshoe pitching; 4 to 5 o'clock, swimming; 5 o'clock, announcement of winning teams.

Those individuals who were in charge of the sports were: Gertrude Jaqueth, Kalispell, registration; Una Randall, Wolf Point, group leaders; Ruth Jones, Dodson, tennis; Lucy Charlesworth, Medicine Lake, basketball; Florence Simpson, Belfry, track; Theodora Reed and Emmapearl McCormick, Missoula, basketball; volleyball, Betty Daniels, Deer Lodge, and Lois McMahon, Butte; horseshoe pitching, Sally McMurdo, Wilsall, scorer; Margaret Randall, Missoula.

Pharmacists Hold Chapter Banquet For New Members

Harold Voight, Leon Richards and C. E. Mollett Speak at Annual Kappa Psi Banquet

Members of Kappa Psi, men's national pharmacy honorary, including initiates and alumni attended the annual chapter banquet at the Florence hotel Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Harold Voight, newly-elected regent of Kappa Psi, presided as toastmaster. At his suggestion Orville Peek, Missoula druggist, responded for the alumni commenting in a short address on their progress as a group and their contributions to professional pharmacy.

Leon Richards, instructor in pharmacy, outlined briefly the progress of Kappa Psi chapters at the University of Washington and on other campuses. Approximately 90 per cent of the pharmacy text books now in use have been edited by Kappa Psi alumni, according to Professor Richards.

Dean C. E. Mollett, who is chief satrap of the Northwest province of Kappa Psi, discussed the history of pharmacy in its relations to medicine and other related sciences which are based on pharmacy. He described the development of pharmaceutical education sketching the preceptor, guild and store training methods preceding the modern college of pharmacy. He noted the final segregation of the science following its affiliation with the study of medicine, botany and chemistry. During the last decade, according to Dean Mollett, practically all state-supported pharmacy departments are housed in separate buildings and have registered pharmacists as their deans.

Toastmaster Voight called upon former officers of the fraternity for brief messages. Those initiated at the preceding meeting responded also as did several alumni.

Faculty Will Wear Caps and Gowns

Questionnaire Show Majority Favor Caps and Gowns

Members of the faculty will wear caps and gowns at Commencement, according to Professor C. W. Waters, acting chairman of the Commencement committee.

This decision was brought about by means of a questionnaire sent out by Dr. Waters to all members of the faculty concerning the matter of faculty members wearing caps and gowns at Commencement. The majority of the members were in favor of wearing them.

BARB-WIRE Points on the Line About "Purple Towers"

"Purple Towers," has been produced in every state in the United States, and needless to say, has gone over with a bang every time.

Don C. Wilson, author, outdid himself in writing the theme song, "Forever." To show its popularity, the Elgin Watch company had adopted the song as a theme song to be used in all broadcasts over the national network.

Along with several other comedians, the "hick" constable injects some light intervals into the dialogue. For instance he is a past master at getting "all bawled up" in his language as well as actions.

At one place, he nudges his companion and says, "It does beat all, how young people will fall in love. Oh well, remember the old Greek quotation, 'Worms have died and men have eaten them—all for love.'"

Ticket sales have been very satisfactory, those in charge report. Track Meet visitors are urged to get their tickets early, the best seats are going fast.

The front of the Wilma is going to be turned into a model of a castle front, through which patrons will have to pass to enter. Photographs of a portion of the cast will be bill-boarded at the entrance.

Music, lights, dances, snappy dialogue, clever "turns" and choruses—what more could be rolled into one program? It's all excellently handled.

Stevlenson Pulled Tendon and Is Out of Meet Saturday; Watson, Roe, Robertson, Covington, Blakeslee, Parmenter, Perey, Lemire And Lockwood Are Outstanding Tracksters

Don Stevlenson's name was added Monday to the list of men who may not run Saturday in the State Intercollegiate track meet. Stevlenson, the University's fastest low hurdler, pulled a tendon as he strode over the high hurdles last Saturday in the individual track and field championships.

The fastest times of the year were turned in last Friday and Saturday as 10 crowns, emblematic of championships in the University's track and field events, rested on eight different heads. Clarence Watson, who received his early training running up and down the hills of Helena, placed first in the mile and two-mile races. Monty Robertson, a freshman from Malta, won the 220-yard dash by half a yard from Covington in 22.2 seconds. Later he hurled himself 21 feet 10 1/2 inches through the air in the broad jump to outdistance Bill Disbrow by four inches.

Watson Wins
Watson strode through the mile in 4 minutes 31.3 seconds after he and Joe Roe, a freshman from the Smelter city, had passed Bob Blakeslee on the back stretch of the third lap. Watson sprinted the last 150 yards to the tape in the two-mile to outdistance Blakeslee with the clock showing 9 minutes 53.4 seconds for his efforts. Steensland placed third.

Elbert Covington hurried through the 440-yard dash in 51.2 seconds, leading Stevlenson by one stride. Bob White and Emmett Carey placed in that order.

In the 100-yard dash Bob Parmenter flashed across the finish line in 9.9 seconds. Robertson finished second.

CINDER CHATTER

Starting yesterday afternoon with the Essay and Little Theater eliminations, the great interscholastic track and field carnival is rapidly getting up momentum. More than 130 schools are listed, 118 of these in athletics alone.

Returning champions and record holders in various events are now on the campus, awaiting the starting gun or the signal that they are the next to try for a place in the high school rush for records.

Record holders include Maple of Belfry with a time of 16.2 seconds for the high hurdles and Peden of Custer county high whose time of 22.3 seconds set a new record for the 220-yard dash. Men who placed among the first five in many of the events are numerous.

Jacobs and Grantier of Missoula county high school will be defending the tennis crowns, both singles and doubles. Merhar of Butte, twice golf champ, is also back.

Two days of high school track and field events, and this climaxed by the State Intercollegiate Track Meet Saturday. At least five of the colleges in Montana will send representatives for the struggle for the intercollegiate honors.

Don Stevlenson, the University's hope for a first in the low hurdles, may not run because of a tendon pulled last Saturday as he strode over the high obstacles.

Oakes Concludes Spring Drill With Saturday Game Between Two Picked Teams

Practice Game Last Saturday Concludes Five Week's Spring Football; White Shirt Team Finishes with 20-0 Victory; Each Squad Is Equally Apportioned

Concluding five weeks of drill on all details of football, Coach Bernard F. Oakes sent his alert and willing squad through a brisk practice game on Dornblaser field last Saturday. During the first half the players were apportioned so that equal strength prevailed on each squad. Shifting some of the men in the second half the White Shirts swarmed over the field for a 20-0 victory.

"It was a very satisfactory scrimmage," Oakes said after the game, his first spring practice as coach at the University.

Three Touchdowns
Dick Fox, the left or right-handed ball tosser, plunged over for the first touchdown from the seven-yard line. A pass to Angie Vidro converted the point. Dalley smashed the resilient Blue line, it yielded and he dragged three tacklers over the last stripe from four yards out. Crowley dropped kicked for the extra point. Just before the game ended, Botzenhardt, pudgy tackle, leapt out of a heap of players, snagged a wayward Blue pass, and behind a wall of perfect interference ambled 42 yards for the final touchdown.

The White Shirts seemed startled when they saw the first kickoff bounding their way and allowed the Blues to recover their own kick on the 17-yard line. Caven tried two wide end runs, placing the ball on the 2-yard line. A penalty set the White Shirts on the 7-yard stripe. In spite of being given five downs, because of an error, the Blues could not penetrate the end zone. Crowley hip-shifted his way 38 yards from a kick formation. The quarter ended with the ball in midfield.

Tight Defenses
The teams tightened their defenses in the second quarter. Fox made two long runs but not into scoring territory. Crowley ran 25 yards to threaten the blue-shirted players' goal. Passes went into the air like rockets in no man's land, but were incomplete and the Blues kicked. McDonald caught three short passes in rapid succession but again the Whites were held for downs.

In the second half that small Butte boy, Cale Crowley, opened up a rapid running attack. Three times he dodged his way for long gains to the 7-yard line, where Fox carried the ball over. The point was scored by a pass to Vidro. A pass to McDonald gained 15 yards, another was intercepted by the White Shirts. The Blues shot a long pass which was intercepted by the foe. A series of line bucks and off-tackle runs placed the ball four yards from the Blue goal.
